

TAACCCT is a $1.9 billion investment in more than 700 community colleges nationwide.

Across the country, these community colleges are using innovative education and career training programs to address the challenges of today's workforce, provide industry-recognized skills, and help lead to family-supporting jobs. More than $1.5 billion of the total TAACCCT investment went to consortia that are building lasting systems to serve unemployed workers and other adult learners.

TAACCCT Funds Invested

States with colleges in both state and multi-state consortia

States with colleges in one or more state consortia

States with colleges in one or more multi-state consortia

All states, including these, have single-college grants